A strong, fair and open trade agenda, makes Europe an attractive place for business. This is key to strengthening the EU's role as a global leader while ensuring the highest standards of climate, environmental and labour protections. European leadership also means working closely with neighbouring countries, introducing a comprehensive strategy on Africa and reaffirming the European perspective of the countries of the Western Balkans.

Submission, receipt and registration of proposals/tenders

Following the publication of either a call for proposals (grants) or call for tender (procurements), the applicants/tenderers can submit their proposals/tenders.

They should adhere to the arrangements for sending and handing over proposals or tenders specified in the call, for example the deadline, date, and possibly time. Only submissions complying with these provisions may be evaluated.

Digital technology is changing people's lives. The EU's digital strategy aims to make this transformation work for people and businesses, while helping to achieve its target of a climate-neutral Europe by 2050.

The Commission is determined to make this Europe's "Digital Decade". Europe must now strengthen its digital sovereignty and set standards, rather than following those of others – with a clear focus on data, technology, and infrastructure.

Individuals and businesses in the EU can only thrive if the economy works for them.

The EU's unique social market economy allows economies to grow and to reduce poverty and inequality. Small and medium-sized enterprises are the backbone of the EU's economy. It is essential to strengthen them, complete the Capital Markets Union and deepen the Economic and Monetary Union.

With Europe on a stable footing, the economy can fully respond to the needs of EU citizens.

Grants

Grants are direct financial contributions from the European Union budget awarded by way of a donation to third-party beneficiaries (usually non-profit-making organisations) engaged in activities that serve EU policies. This expenditure is mostly subject to centralised management by the European Commission, either directly by its own departments or indirectly through EU agencies, executive agencies or national agencies.

Grants represent a major part of the European Union's expenditure and fall into two broad categories:

- grants that finance actions intended to help to achieve an objective that forms part of an EU policy
