Art.1

Indiction

A public selection is announced for admission to no. 1 position for the PhD course in "Energia e sviluppo sostenibile" - curriculum Energia e benessere ambientale XLI cycle academic year 2025/2026 with a scholarship entitled "Study and experimentation of methodologies for hydrogen storage using clathrate hydrates", financed under the Italian Science Fund 2022-2023 (FIS 2 Call) under the HydrEn Project "Alternative Hydrogen Storage by Enclathration" - Project Code: FIS-2023-00628 - CUP: J53C25001630001, as per Annex 1 which is an integral part of this Call. Access to the PhD course takes place according to the methods established and specified for each PhD course in the aforementioned Annex 1.

Art.2

Admission requirements of one of the following qualifications by the deadline for this call for applications may apply :

1. master's degree obtained pursuant to Ministerial Decree 270/2004 or specialist degree obtained pursuant to Ministerial Decree 509/1999 or degree awarded pursuant to the system prior to Ministerial Decree no. 509 of 3 November 1999, amended by Ministerial Decree no. 270 of 22 October 2004;
2. A university degree obtained from a foreign university, comparable to an Italian second-cycle academic degree (EHEA, or pursuant to the 1999 Bologna Process), or EQF level 7, which grants access to a doctorate in the country that awarded it. The Selection Committees, referred to in Article 4, will assess the suitability of the qualification and, if successful, will proceed with its recognition for the sole purpose of admission to this selection process. The suitability of the international qualification is assessed based on the documentation attached to the application. If the documentation submitted does not provide sufficient information for evaluation, the Committees have the right to exclude the applicants. At the end of the selection process, the Doctoral Office will verify the authenticity and comparability of the international qualifications submitted and, if the qualification presented is not authentic or valid for enrollment purposes, reserves the right to exclude admitted candidates.

The specific qualifications required for admission are indicated in Annex 1.

Application for participation

The application and related attachments must be submitted electronically on the PICA portal , using the dedicated IT application available at <https://pica.cineca.it/unipg/> , no later than April 13 , 2026, according to the procedures outlined in Annex 2 , which is an integral part of this Notice and which we encourage you to read carefully. No other forms of application are permitted, under penalty of exclusion.

To apply, it is necessary to pay a fee of 20.00 (twenty) Euros, under penalty of exclusion from the procedure ; the payment must be made using the PAGOPA system , directly from the PICA portal, by the deadline for submitting the application (13 April 2026).

Under no circumstances will the above-mentioned contribution be refunded.

All candidates who complete the online application process are admitted to the selection process subject to verification of the requirements set out in the Call for Applications. The Administration will also automatically verify the authenticity of the self-certifications submitted by candidates. The Administration, following the necessary checks, may therefore exclude candidates from the selection process at any time.

Art.4

Judging Committee

The Admissions Committee for the PhD program will be formed and appointed in accordance with the provisions of Article 15 of the PhD Program Regulations of this University.

The composition of the Commission will be announced starting April 14, 2026 at the link <https://www.unipg.it/didattica/percorsi-post-laurea/dottorati-di-ricerca/bandi-avvisi-e-modulistica>

Art.5

Selection procedure

The selection procedure will be carried out according to the methods indicated in Annex 1 to this Notice, which we invite you to read carefully .

The evaluation of qualifications is carried out by the Selection Committee before the selection tests, according to the criteria and methods for assigning scores identified by the Selection Committee in the first session and made public before starting the remaining selection procedures.

The score awarded by the Selection Committee based on qualifications will be published, before the selection tests are completed, at the link <https://www.unipg.it/didattica/percorsi-post-laurea/dottorati-di-ricerca/bandi-avvisi-e-modulistica> .

Effective April 2, 2026 A notice will be published on the University website at <https://www.unipg.it/didattica/percorsi-post-laurea/dottorati-di-ricerca/bandi-avvisi-e-modulistica> and on the University's online noticeboard, with which the calendars will be communicated of the tests or any other communication concerning this selection. This notice is considered a formal invitation and no personal communications will be sent regarding it .

Failure by a candidate to attend the selection tests will be deemed an implicit waiver of participation in the selection process, regardless of the reason.

To be admitted to the exams referred to in this article, candidates must have one of the following valid identification documents: identity card, passport, driving license, boating license, pension booklet, heating system operating license, firearms license, identification cards, provided they include a photograph and a stamp or other equivalent signature, issued by a state administration. If the interested party is in possession of an identity document or recognition document that is not valid, the status, personal qualities and facts contained therein may be proven by showing the same, provided that the interested party declares, at the bottom of the photocopy of the document, that the data contained in the document have not undergone any changes since the date of issue.

Upon completion of its work, the Selection Committee will draw up a general merit ranking, including only those candidates who have obtained an overall score equal to or higher than the minimum overall score for eligibility indicated in Annex 1 to this Notice. This score is derived from the sum of the scores obtained, subject to any passing thresholds, during the evaluation of qualifications and the selection tests.

Upon completion of the admission procedures, the relevant documents will be approved by the Rector's decree, or they will be returned to the Commission for any necessary adjustments and additions. Those who are appropriately placed on the ranking list, as set forth in Article 6 below, will be admitted to the Course. After approval, the rankings will be published on the website at <https://www.unipg.it/didattica/percorsi-post-laurea/dottorati-di-ricerca/bandi-avvisi-e-modulistica> and on the University's online noticeboard (no personal communications will be sent in this regard).

Candidates are granted access to documents in accordance with the procedures established by Law No. 241/1990 and the University Regulations regarding administrative procedures and the right of access. The Administration may postpone access until the competition has concluded.

Art.6

Admission to courses

Candidates are admitted to the Doctoral Programs according to the order of the merit ranking, until all available places for the Doctoral Program are filled. In the event of a tie, the younger candidate will prevail.

Candidates admitted to the Course must enroll by the deadlines established in the approval of the documents (published at <https://www.unipg.it/didattica/percorsi-post-laurea/dottorati-di-ricerca/bandi-avvisi-e-modulistica>), exclusively through the procedure available in SOL, following the instructions made available at <https://www.unipg.it/didattica/percorsi-post-laurea/dottorati-di-ricerca>. Failure to do so will result in forfeiture of the right to enroll (no personal communications will be sent). Similarly, any changes to the ranking list and the deadlines for subsequent enrollment will be published on the website <https://www.unipg.it/didattica/percorsi->

post-laurea/dottorati-di-ricerca/bandi-avvisi-e-modulistica on the dates indicated in the aforementioned approval of the documents. No personal communications will be sent in this regard, and therefore all successful candidates are required to carefully monitor the site in the weeks immediately following the completion of the tests.

If an admitted candidate withdraws or fails to enroll, the next eligible candidate in the ranking list will take over. The ranking list may be updated until May 31, 2026.

Upon completion of the enrollment procedures, the Teaching Board of each doctoral course formally awards scholarships to eligible candidates.

Art. 7

Rights and duties of doctoral students and causes for exclusion

Admission to the PhD program requires an exclusive, full-time commitment. Subject to authorization from the Teaching Board, PhD students with a scholarship may undertake paid activities up to a maximum amount equal to the scholarship itself (€16,243.00). The above-mentioned paid activities must enable the student to acquire skills relevant to the PhD program and be compatible with the full-time pursuit of the study and research activities required by the program.

For details on the rights and responsibilities of doctoral students and the grounds for exclusion, please refer to Articles 19 and 20 of the Regulations for Doctoral Programs at the University of Perugia.

Enrollment in the first year requires payment of the regional tax for the right to study and a stamp duty, totaling €156.00. Students enrolled in subsequent years of doctoral programs are required to pay the regional tax for the right to study, amounting to €140.00.

Students who pay the regional tax for the right to study and any stamp duty late after the deadline are required to pay an additional fee in accordance with the Student Contribution Regulations.
