

Prof. Franco Cotana

Born in Marsciano (Perugia) on 1957. Graduated in Electronic Engineering in 1983 at the University of Rome “La Sapienza” cum Laude. Full Professor in “Industrial Applied Physics” at the University of Perugia.

Member of the Board of Administration of the University of Perugia from 2014.

Director of CIRIAF (Interuniversity Research Centre for Pollution and Environment – Mauro Felli), based at the University of Perugia, from 2013 till 2015.

Director of CRB (National Biomass Research Centre), a research centre of the University of Perugia sponsored by the Italian Ministry of Environment, Sea and Land Protection, from 2003 till 2013.

President and Coordinator of the PhD in “Energy engineering” at the University of Perugia.
Teacher of Applied Physics, Course of Mechanical Engineering, University of Perugia.

Teacher of air conditioning systems and renewable energy, Course of Architectural Engineering, University of Perugia.

Author of more than 380 scientific papers and 18 patents in the fields of energetics, applied acoustics, heat transfer, applied thermodynamics and lighting design. Coordinator of many national and international research projects.

Member of the New York Academy of Sciences.

Representative of the Italian Government in Brussels for the EIBI SET PLAN. Member of the Coordination Board of the AIA-IPPC Commission at the Italian Ministry for the Environment, Sea and Land Protection.